A BRIEF SUMMARY OF SCIENTIFIC HIGHLIGHTS:
The objective of the 18th Antarctic expedition (ANTAR XVIII) carried out between December 2007 and January 2008 was mainly for maintenance of our Antarctic research station. Nevertheless, four research projects were carried out: macrobenthos diversity in Mackellar Sound, a study of predation and physical parameters regarding nesting behavior of Sterna vittata, physical and chemical properties of aerosols around our Antarctic station and an energetic model of solar radiation and climate surrounding our base. The data collected is being processed.
